

Russia Loses Long Wrangle On Voting At Paris Parley

By LYNN HEINZERLING

Paris, Aug. 7 (AP)—The Peace Conference Rules committee resumed its sessions today after coming out of a marathon wrangle over voting procedure and voted unanimously for a Yugoslav proposal to permit neighboring states of former Axis powers to present questions direct to the Foreign Ministers council.

The committee had adjourned at 12:30 a. m. after 20 hours of debate in which it was finally decided over the embittered opposition of Soviet Russia and five other members of her bloc to adopt a British compromise on the voting machinery.

The compromise proposal, adopted by a 15-6 vote after 20 hours of debate, would require a two-thirds majority for decisions of the 21-nation peace conference, but would permit measures adopted by a simple majority to go to the Big Four Foreign Ministers council as "recommendations." All decisions of the conference are subject to the approval of the council.

Acceptance Certain

Soviet Russia had held out from the first for a two-thirds majority rule and strongly opposed the British amendment permitting simple majority "recommendations." The Netherlands and Australia spearheaded the fight against the Russian position.

The Rules committee convened at 4 p. m. (10 a. m. EST) today to complete final details of procedure. No plenary session was scheduled.

The compromise on voting procedure, as well as other rules approved by the committee, must be ratified by the full conference in plenary session, but acceptance is assured since all 21 nations voted in the Rules committee.

Victory Over Russia

The wind-up of the two-day debate came at 2:30 a. m. today after the tired, irritable delegates finally ran out of arguments and voted on a series of four amendments and sub-amendments.

The committee earlier rejected 11 to 9 a New Zealand amendment which would have established a simple majority as the form for all conference decisions.

The bitter debate not only was a set-back for the small powers, which had fought stubbornly for a simple majority on all matters, but also was a solid victory for the Western powers over Soviet Russia and the Eastern European nations.

Littlestown Scout Troop Takes Canoe Trip On River

Five members of Troop 84, Boy Scouts of America, Littlestown, accompanied by L. D. Snyder, a member of the troop committee, enjoyed a canoe trip over the week-end on the Susquehanna river. Carroll Reed, assistant scoutmaster, and Robert Harner and Wilmer Dutter, were in one canoe; and Mr. Snyder and Albert Stock and Wilmer Dutter, in another. The group camped at Wrightsville on Friday night, and travelled Saturday and Sunday. They portaged at the Safe Harbor and Holtwood dams with the help of workmen there. The latter transported the boys with engines and tramp cars.

The group stopped at Long Level to see the various cabin cruisers and at Fishing Creek. The boys hiked a short distance up this

SURRENDERS TO LOCAL POLICE

The object of a police search for several days, S. F. Shultz, whose address was given as Cashtown, walked into police headquarters in the Murphy building this morning and "gave himself up."

Borough police sought to arrest Shultz the night of July 1 on a charge of driving too fast for road conditions on Baltimore street, and alleged that he refused to comply with the signal of an officer, and turned out all the lights on his car to avoid identification and arrest.

In spite of this, police obtained the license number and checked the ownership through Harrisburg. They went to Cashtown, but were unable to find Shultz until he appeared at headquarters this morning.

Squire Baschore fixed bail of $500 on the charge of seeking to avoid identification, and said that Shultz would be committed to jail if unable to furnish bail. No time was set for a hearing on the charges.

CHARGED WITH STORING POWDER

Wilbur Laughman, Fourth and Railroad streets, is scheduled for a hearing at 4 p. m. today before Justice of the Peace John H. Baschore on a charge of possessing and storing powder without notifying the State Department of Labor and Industry and receiving permission for the storage. He was arrested on the charge Monday afternoon by borough police and released on his own recognizance for the hearing.

A dozen cans of black powder were discovered Monday afternoon in an abandoned building on a furniture factory lot along Fourth street when factory workmen began demolishing the building. The discovery was reported to borough police, who set a guard around the powder until it was transferred to the state highway department's magazine.

Arendtsville FFA Will Hold Outing

The Arendtsville chapter of the Future Farmers of America will hold an outing at Caledonia state park Thursday evening. The boys and their leaders will leave the high school at 6:30 by automobile. At the park, a program of swimming, softball and other games has been arranged, to be followed by a picnic supper.

LARGE CONVOY OF ARMY CARS IS SEEN HERE

Upwards of 20 army vehicles, from jeeps to huge motorized heavy artillery, passed through Gettysburg at 6:30 o'clock Tuesday night en route from Baltimore to Letterkenny.

The parade of military might included not only the big guns, but smaller anti-aircraft weapons, mortars, ammunition and supply trucks, repair vehicles and other equipment.

The convoy passed through town in the midst of a heavy downpour of rain, and was misused by many residents who otherwise might have been on the streets.

Traffic was shut off at the square to allow the convoy to go around the southwest side instead of circling the square, into Chambersburg street, because some of the larger vehicles were unable to make the turns.

Police Give Aid

State and borough police assisted in directing traffic and in leading the procession through town, on Baltimore street, the square, Chambersburg street and Buford avenue.

Borough police reported today that a motorist, Mrs. Nellie Kelly Miller, 1 West street, would be charged today with failing to stop her car at an officer's signal, during the passage of the convoy, and a ten-day notice would be mailed by Justice of the Peace John H. Baschore.

Mrs. Miller, according to police, "argued" with Officer Albert Wolford at Chambersburg street and Center square that she was "in a hurry" when he blew his whistle and told her to stop to allow the convoy to pass.

75 Fruit Growers On All-Day Tour

About 75 fruit growers and members of their families took part Tuesday in an all-day tour of various orchards conducted by the Cooperative Fruit Growers of Adams county.

The trip marked a resumption of an annual event which was halted several years ago because of wartime restrictions.

The group started at 8 o'clock Tuesday morning and visited orchards of A. B. C. Williams, N. D. Stary, W. E. Grove, John B. Peters, William M. Lott, Group Brothers, L. S. Snyder and S. H. Yohn. At each of the orchards the owner spoke briefly of practices being followed and answered questions of the growers. M. T. Hartman, county agent, who accompanied the group, also answered questions on orchard practices asked by the group. A picnic lunch was held on the lawn of Mr. and Mrs. John B. Peters, Gardeners R. D.

BIRTHS IN JULY SHATTER RECORD

Fifty-six births, the largest number in five-district section for which Ralph C. Geiselman is recorder, since 1906, were reported during the month of July, Geiselman said today.

Fifty-four of the births, 27 male and 27 female were recorded for Gettysburg, along with three male and six female deaths.

Cumberland township had one male birth and four female deaths while Strasburg township had one female birth, a male and five female deaths. Neither births nor deaths were recorded in Freedom and Highland township.

The record of births for the year so far exceeds the deaths. In the seven months from January through July there were 290 births as compared with 98 deaths.

July's record of 56 births broke the previous record set in June 1943 when there were 47 births.

DRIVER BLAMED FOR COUNTIAN'S DEATH IN CRASH

"Negligence" was charged against Claude Roser, Seven Valleys R. D. 2, by a coroner's jury, which Tuesday night found him responsible for the death of Francis W. Kuhn, New Oxford, killed June 30 when the motorcycle he was riding and a car driven by Roser collided in Thomasville.

"We the undersigned jurors," stated the verdict in the Kuhn inquest, "attribute the cause of death of one Francis W. Kuhn to the violation and negligence of one Claude Roser, said driver in the fatal accident."

According to testimony at the inquest conducted by County Coroner Lester J. Sell at the York court house, Roser was driving on the left side of the road when his car sideswiped Kuhn's motorcycle, killing the cyclist instantly and nearly severing his head.

Other Testimony

Kuhn's companion, James A. Noel, Jr., 16 West High street, New Oxford, who was riding on the motorcycle behind Kuhn and who suffered extensive lacerations in the crash, testified that he was unable to see the Roser vehicle from his position.

Richard U. Smith and Arthur J. Smith, both of New Oxford and both driving motorcycles behind stated that Roser was on the left side of the highway traveling east immediately preceding the accident but that he was pulling over to the right side of the road at the time of the crash.

Mrs. Ruth Biesecker, Thomasville, who lives only 40 feet from the scene of the accident, corroborated the testimony of the cyclists that the Roser vehicle was on the left side of the road.

Cpl. A. J. Swalinski, of the York state police sub-station, added that following the crash Roser's car was straddling the center of the road, with its rear wheels still to the left of the center line.

Roser did not testify in his own behalf, nor did his wife or his son, Roger, who were passengers in the car at the time of the accident.

STOLEN MONEY IS RETURNED

The more than $400 removed from a hidden compartment at the service station of S. F. "Pappy" Swope, Carlisle street, Monday was returned sometime Tuesday, police said today.

The cash and checks which had disappeared from the bag were found folded and placed inside a cigar box in the same compartment as that in which the money bag was kept. It was discovered Tuesday afternoon when Julius Swope, son of the owner, opened the box to get a cigar for a customer. The money was not in the box when police investigated Monday night. Still missing were the receipts for the business which the money represented. As a result it was not known if the entire amount had been returned, but it was believed, police say, that the amount was substantially correct. The officers are continuing their investigation.

BRETHREN TOLD TIME NOW RIPE FOR EVANGELISM

Members of the Southern District of the Pennsylvania Church of the Brethren, meeting today in the more than a century old Marsh Creek Church of the Brethren for the 55th annual Ministerial and 48th annual Sunday School meetings of the district heard talks on individual evangelism, individual growth and the church as "the Evangelistic family of God."

The sessions got underway Tuesday night and will extend through Thursday, when principal emphasis will be placed on Sunday School matters.

The Rev. W. A. Keeney, East Broadway, elder of the Marsh Creek church, served as chairman at the opening sessions Tuesday night when rain prevented a full turnout of the more than 500 expected for the gatherings.

Talk on Evangelism

The Rev. Dr. T. F. Henry, pastor of the Huntingdon church of the Brethren, spoke on "Evangelism" Tuesday, concluding that "the open season for telling the good news is on us, go and tell it." Asserting that "man is worth more than the best farm, more than the whole world," Doctor Henry urged his listeners to greater evangelism, and outlined four phases of evangelism, prayer, the presence and power of the Holy Spirit, witnessing and preaching.

This morning the Rev. O. J. Hassinger spoke on "The Individual Evangelism" and the Rev. S. C. Godfrey on "The Individual Growth." This afternoon the Rev. N. S. Sellers spoke on "The Church, the Evangelistic Family of God," and Doctor Henry was scheduled to give the closing address this afternoon on "The Church, the Bride of Christ." This evening Dr. A. C. Baugher, president of Elizabethtown college is to give an educational address to which the public is invited.

Concluding Session

Thursday's sessions, to be given a Sunday School emphasis, will include discussions on "Christian Home Temperance and Social Purity," "The Child and Juvenile Delinquency" and "Child Evangelism." The closing sessions Thursday afternoon will include discussion on "The School's Evangelistic Function and How to Stimulate its Growth."

Hail Historic Flight Of Unmanned B-17s To U.S.

Field, where he confers today with Fourth Air Force officials on defenses against guided missiles, Richardson said:

"Operation remote (the drone mission) proved we have control equipment which will operate reliably at least 15 hours, sufficiently to take any conventional heavy bomber 2,500 or more miles. That aircraft could have been loaded with 5,000 pounds of TNT or other explosive. It would not have been necessary to fly the mother up to the target. The mother could have stood off 50 miles and directed the drone in and picked out the target.

"We could have done it with B-32's or B-35's or any other bomber—and with the same control equipment."

The Hilo-Muroc flight of slightly more than 2,500 miles was greater than the distance from Fairbanks, Alaska to Murmansk, from Honolulu to San Francisco; or across either the north or south Atlantic oceans.

Using B-32 or similar bombers, with a range of 10,000 or more miles, Richardson pointed out, the United States could strike almost any point on earth with guided missiles.

Flat ceiling prices were re-established today at June 20 levels for independent (Group 1 and 2) food stores in the same counties on 224 dry grocery items by the Philadelphia Office.

Frank J. Sheely, chairman of the general celebration committee, said today. The celebration will be held next Wednesday, the first anniversary of V-J Day.

War veterans in Adams county will be guests of honor for the day. The committee has announced that the veterans may wear uniforms or civilian clothes, just as they wish. Their wives and families also will receive free suppers that evening on the college grounds. Preparations are being made to feed 4,000 persons.

The day is to be observed generally as a holiday throughout the county with many business places and factories closing for the entire day and others announcing plans for a half-holiday.

Parade at 1:30 P. M.

The day's events begin in the morning with church services throughout the county.

The afternoon program begins with a huge patriotic parade at 1:30 o'clock in the afternoon with all sections of the county to be represented by marching organizations, fire companies, bands, floats or other units. STATE POLICE CORPORAL IS LIONS SPEAKER

Cpl. Joseph L. Pochyba, head of the local state police sub-station, urged drivers to "take upon themselves the responsibility of undergoing annual physical examinations, particularly of their eyes and ears," in an address delivered at a meeting of the Fairfield Lions club Tuesday night at which members of the Fairfield borough council were special guests.

Pointing out that automobiles must be examined under state law twice a year to make sure they are in good mechanical operation, the local police officer added that "a human being is a machine just as much as an automobile in many respects. What value is an automobile that is in perfect mechanical shape if its driver is full of mechanical defects? There is no law forcing a person to undergo a physical examination to determine whether he is in 'mechanical' shape to drive a car, but a driver, for his own safety and for the safety of other drivers and those who ride with him should have his ears, eyes and general physical condition checked at least once a year."

Promises "Checkup"

The state police corporal promised an "intensive check-up" on traffic on Route 116 in the Fairfield area following a discussion on traffic problems held following his talk.

Members of the council told Pochyba that "heavy trucks and buses are speeding through the town." He pointed out that most trailer-tractor type trucks are held to a 30-mile-per-hour speed limit and that buses are expected to obey speed limit signs as well as any other vehicle.

35-Mile Limit "Adequate"

Speed limits of 35 miles per hour now in force for Fairfield were described by Pochyba as "adequate." Some councilmen proposed a 25-mile rate for vehicles passing through the borough, but the state policeman answered that he felt 35 should take care of the situation, provided the motorists kept within the limit.

The corporal told the Lions that the majority of accidents occurring during the past several months have been caused by motorists failing to yield one half the highway. Another big cause of accidents is following too closely, he said.

He urged drivers to keep their speeds down. Asserting that most cars on the highway today are old and likely to suffer mechanical defects at any time, he pointed out that by traveling at lower rates of speed less danger would result "if anything happened."

Charles B. Turner, president, presided at the dinner meeting held in the Fairfield Community center, with about 30 present.

BOY IN COLLISION

Charles Sanders, Jr., 11, 37 Steinwehr avenue, escaped injury when his bicycle figured in a collision with an automobile driven by the Rev. Joseph P. O'Donnell, of Mt. St. Mary's college, Emmitsburg, on Steinwehr avenue, Gettysburg, Monday afternoon at about 3:30 o'clock. Borough police reported that the boy rode from between two parked cars into the path of the priest's machine. The lad was taken to the Warner hospital, where an examination revealed no injuries.

UNRRA HOLDS FIFTH AND LAST MEET AT GENEVA

By GLENN BABB
(AP Foreign Affairs Analyst)

Overshadowed by the noisy peace conference at Paris, another international gathering in Geneva is grappling with the vast dislocations and sufferings left by the war. In the home of the defunct League of Nations the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration is preparing for its own passing but with the hope that other agencies will embody its spirit and mission.

There is grave uncertainty whether this can or will be done. Hope for continuation of the fight against the tremendous sum of hunger and homelessness arising from the war rests in various agencies of the United Nations—with which UNRRA has only the slightest connection. But the time left for UNRRA grows short and the United Nations, for all the good will and high intentions of its champions, moves ponderously and slowly, dependent on decisions of its unit nations, in some of which governmental processes are none too rapid.

Fifth and Last.
The Geneva meeting is the fifth general council of UNRRA, and its last. The three nations which have borne most of the financial burden—the United States, which has furnished nearly three-quarters of the funds, and the United Kingdom and Canada, from which has come 80 per cent of the other quarter—have decided that UNRRA's work in Europe shall end December 31 and in the Orient next March 31. By that time UNRRA will have expended nearly $4,000,000,000.

Both the Americans who have served as UNRRA's directors general—Herbert H. Lehman, who headed it from its formation until his resignation last March, and Fiorello H. LaGuardia, now at Geneva—have declared that a great suffering will result if there is a hiatus between the end of UNRRA and the time new United Nations agencies are ready to function. But the outlook for bridging this gap smoothly is not bright. The United Nations has made a beginning toward assuming UNRRA's responsibilities but little more.

Most important of the new agencies is the International Refugee Organization (IRO), whose charter was approved recently by the United Nations Economic and Social Council but still awaits ratification by the U.N. General Assembly, meeting in New York September 23, and ratification by member nations.

Hunger Vital Element.
Moreover IRO is designed chiefly to care for and resettle refugees who are to find new homes overseas and not to feed and shelter the majority of the 850,000 displaced persons now under Allied care in Europe. There is no place in its program for ministering to the other millions whom UNRRA has helped keep alive.

The tremendous task of feeding the hundreds of millions who still will be hungry in 1947 and 1948 must, according to present prospects, go back to the governments of the suffering populations or to the armies of occupation whose areas contain the great concentrations of displaced persons.

Hunger is one of the vital political elements of our troubled times. The supporters of UNRRA believe that the chaos which racks Europe and China would have been many degrees more tragic and dangerous without its efforts to fend off starvation. The current discussions at Geneva and those of the United Nations agencies in New York in the coming weeks may have much to do with determining the political complexion of Europe and Asia in 1947 and after.

Harbaugh Reunion At Fountindale

A number of persons from this section attended the Harbaugh reunion at St. Jacob's Evangelical and Reformed church, Fountindale, on Sunday.

The reunion, the first since before the war, was an all-day affair with 150 members of the clan and friends present. During the day Frank Bennett gave a brief sketch of the history of the Harbaugh clan. Officers for the coming year were elected as follows: President, Paul Harbaugh, New Oxford, Pa.; vice president, Preston Harbaugh, Redline, Pa.; secretary, Mrs. Ivan Harbaugh, Waynesboro, Pa.; treasurer, Paxton Harbaugh, Sunshine Trail.

Local state police today announced that a heavy duty ten-ply truck tire together with wheel and rim was found near Piney Mountain inn on the Lincoln highway Tuesday. The officers state that the owner can secure the tire by coming to the local state police office in the Hotel Gettysburg and giving the serial number of the tire which was described as practically new.

State Police Say:

License to drive a car may be denied to a person who is an habitual drunkard.

TRUMAN WINS BALLOT TEST IN MISSOURI

(By The Associated Press)

President Truman and backers of his move to unseat Rep. Roger C. Slaughter came out on top today in what the Missouri Congress member had called "a fight to determine the future course of the Democratic party."

Complete returns from the fifth Missouri Congressional district gave Enos A. Axtell, 37-year-old former navy lieutenant, the Democratic nomination by 2,301 votes over the two-term of whom Mr. Truman had said:

"If he's right, I'm wrong."

Jerome Walsh, former OPA enforcement attorney, ran a distant third.

Axtell's November opponent will be Albert L. Reeves, Jr., ex-lieutenant colonel of the army engineers. He was unopposed for the Republican nomination.

CIO—PAC Helped

Slaughter was one of the few Congressional incumbents defeated as voters in Missouri, Virginia, West Virginia, Kansas, New Hampshire and Arkansas chose party nominees in primaries yesterday.

The CIO-PAC and the Pendergast political organization of Kansas City lined up with Axtell and the president. Mr. Truman had condemned the incumbent as an obstructor of administration legislative aims in the powerful house rules committee.

Slaughter questioned propriety of the president's intervention and asserted that the CIO-PAC, under communist influence, hoped to dominate the Democratic party.

The intra-party battle had much in common with one in 1938 when the late president Roosevelt took aim at Rep. John J. O'Connor, New York democrat who was chairman of the House Rules committee. Mr. Roosevelt prevailed over O'Connor, but failed in attempts that year to unseat four other Congress Democrats whose voting records he disliked.

Three Senators Win

Each of three Senators up for renomination yesterday won handily. All Democrats, they were:

Harry F. Boyd of Virginia, whom the CIO-PAC hoped to oust; Frank P. Briggs of Missouri endorsed by Mr. Truman; and Harley M. Kilgore of West Virginia, backed by the CIO-PAC.

New Hampshire's governor, Charles M. Dale, won Republican renomination by only 500 votes over U. S. Rep. Sherman Adams.

In Kansas Harry H. Woodring, former governor of the state and Secretary of War early in the Roosevelt administration, returned to political prominence as Democratic nominee for Governor.

After travelling up the Conestoga creek a distance, the group continued down the river, to a town called Pequea, and then went up the Pequea creek as far as possible. They camped Saturday night on a small island.

The next day they continued down the river, and stopped at the Indian museum near York Furnace. The group stopped at the gorge near Holtwood dam. This is reputed to be one of the most beautiful sights in Pennsylvania, but can be seen only from the water. They went on to Holtwood dam, and had an exciting few minutes going down the tail race. There was need to paddle expertly here, as there were three-foot waves at the end of the race. The next scene of interest was the "Thousand Islands," where rocks protrude as high as 200 feet, and there are very tall trees. Mr. Johnson island, said to be the only eagle sanctuary in this section was the next point visited.

The interesting canoe trip ended at Peach Bottom, near the Mason and Dixon line. From there they returned to Littlestown by auto.

COMMUNICATION

Dear Mr. Editor:

Is this curfew really the way to impress the future citizens that this is a free country?

Now I have to get up to go to work so the curfew does not effect me except on my day off. But! After school starts and football games are being played I have trouble enforcing it. Helges will have trouble enforcing it. I am only 15 and I try to content myself in this dried-up town but now it is even harder than before. Why doesn't the burgesse wise up and drop this curfew?

I'm sure he would be much more popular than now.

You can hardly go to the movies for fear of staying out after curfew. Our thesians go to the tune of "Tramp, Tramp, Tramp"; "Tramp, Tramp, Tramp, the cops are marching. Curfew time has come again. Then beneath the starry flag we will breathe the air again. In a free night in our own beloved town. A "poor" juvenile.

MAROONS OPEN GRIDIRON CAMP ON AUGUST 19

Preliminary plans for the first football camp for the Gettysburg high school football squad since 1940 were outlined Tuesday evening at the high school with a group of candidates met with Coach George Forney, Assistant Coach Fred Haehnlen, and Prof. Guile W. Lefever.

The squad will go to the Masonic camp Monday, August 19, and will return for drills on the high school field the following Monday.

Invitations to attend the camp were sent by Coach Forney to the members of last year's varsity and junior varsity squads who finished the season and who signed last spring indicating they would be candidates for the team this season. Twenty-nine eligibles under that system attended the meeting Tuesday evening.

Th Maroon mentor is desirous of having 33 candidates attend camp and it may be necessary for the squad and coaches to select a number from those who indicated by their presence at meetings last spring they would be candidates but who were not qualified for invitations under the above system.

All on Even Basis
Coach Forney pointed out that he would like to take all candidates to camp but that accommodations, expenses and other reasons made it necessary to hold the figure to 33. He emphatically stressed that those not attending camp will be given every chance to make good.

It is the hope of the Maroon coaching staff that the squad will be greatly augmented by additional candidates when practice will be resumed on the high school field. Every consideration will be given to those reporting for the first time on August 26 and they will be ranked on an even basis with the camp-trained group in their battles for varsity berths.

Assisting Coach Forney at the camp will be his assistant coaches, Howard Shoemaker and Fred Haehnlen, William Bushman, team manager, will also attend. A chief will be chosen later.

Ten Lettermen
Ten lettermen were among those attending Tuesday's meeting and included the following: Seniors—Eugene Cole, Donald Bucher, Wilmer Sharrar, Joe Hess, Donald Sterner, Charles Rodgers, Fred Rodgers, Jay Hershey and Dale Sheffer, lettermen, and Lawrence McLaughlin; Juniors, Kenneth Wolfgang, letterman, David Blocher, Reginald Dunkinson, James Sanders, John Rindinger, Robert Settle, Paul Schmidt, Robert Poth and William Shull; Sophomores—John Shultz, Bruce Westerdaal, William Snyder, Robert Williams, Harold Dayhoff, John Aughinbaugh, Richard Coleman, Robert Hottle, Eugene Kane and Guy Donaldson.

A nine-game schedule has been arranged for the Maroons the first of which will be played with Delone Catholic high at McSherrystown on September 13, when the new lighting system being installed at Delone will be dedicated.

The remainder of the schedule follows: September 20, York Catholic, here; 27, Carlisle, here; October 4, Hanover, away; 11, Waynesboro, here; 19, Shippensburg, away; 25, Chambersburg, here; November 1, Hershey, here; 8, Mechanicsburg, away.

Extreme Penalty For "Fixing" Jockey

Chicago, Aug. 7 (AP)—Robert L. Vedder, 26-year-old Nickerson, Kas., jockey has been ruled off the turf for life by the Illinois Racing board on a charge of attempting to "fix" a race at Arlington Park July 13 with a $500 bribe.

Sports Roundup

By SID FEDER
(Pinch Hitting For Hugh Fullerton, Jr.)

Goshen, N. Y., Aug. 7 (AP)—Hambletonian hiccup:
You're safe in saying Earl Rowe of the Canadian House of Commons is the first member of Parliament ever to drive a horse in a professional race. He'll be steering his own Van Riddell, who's never lost a race, in today's Hambletonian. . . . Chief reason he entered the colt today is because after he bought Van Riddell from Dr. Harry Riddell, Rowe promised the doctor on his deathbed the horse would start in the Hambletonian if he could get him there.

WHAT HAPPENED TO MCLIN, BENNY?

Big mystery around here is what happened to McLin Hanover, the 1938 Hambletonian champ. . . . After he won the corn-tassel whiz-bang that year, and then tied the three-year old trotters record of 1:59 1/4 for a mile, McLin was sold to Mussolini, through an Italian count. . . . He was shipped to Italy and won a handful of races there before the war. . . . But since the big fireworks started, there's been no word of him. . . . Benny should have tried riding him instead of one of those Italian automobiles when he tried to escape last year.

HEAD MAN

The best "Daddy" in trotting is Volomente. . . . All three of the top favorites today—Chesterton, Victory Song and Westfield Girl—call his Pop. . . . In his racing days, back in the mid-20's he was the only horse ever to trot against other horses and win a stake from them. . . . He's such a hot sire now, his stud book for 1947 is already full, a year in advance of the breeding season.

Erie, Pa., Aug. 7 (AP)—A football clinic, opening at Edinboro State Teachers' college today, gives Western Pennsylvania grid coaches in attendance a chance to study the "T" formation as used both by Army and Northwestern.

Opening sessions are being conducted by Lynn Walkdrof, coach of Northwestern university, and Stu Holcomb, end coach for Army. Offensive line play is being reviewed by Bart Ingerson, Illinois line coach.

More than 50 candidates went through a day of heavy workouts yesterday in Erie stadium in preparation for an all-star scholastic game Friday.

Mel Ott's lowly Giants, 15 games behind the leader with 52 to go, are in a hopeless position in the National league pennant race but you never could prove it by the contending Cardinals and Dodgers.

When the Brooks really needed to take one with a chance to stretch their lead to a full three games, last night, they couldn't bump off their rivals from Manhattan.

Lefty Dave Koslo, touched for five hits in three innings, tightened up and held the Dodgers hitless the rest of the way in recording his 12th victory of the season, 5-2. The victory reduced Brooklyn's first place margin to two games. The Cardinals were rained out of their game at Pittsburgh.

Chicago pulled out of a three-game losing spin to smother Cincinnati, 3-0.

Braves Beat Phillies

The hustling Boston Braves proved they still can beat the Phillies although out-hit by a 10 to 5 margin when they rushed over to earn a 3-1 edge for Johnny Sain.

In the American league, the Boston Red Sox marched another step closer to clinching the pennant with a 5-0 romp over Philadelphia.

Two unearned runs on three St. Louis errors, helped Detroit record a 3-1 victory over the Browns.

New York at Washington was postponed by rain.

Chicago's White Sox enjoyed one of their best hitting days of the season, bowling over Cleveland, 11-1.

Owen Changes Mind, Goes To Cincinnati

Brownsville, Texas, August 7 (AP)—Mickey Owen, the ex-Brooklyn Dodger who on Monday called it quits with the Mexican baseball league, was en route to Cincinnati today after changing his mind about visiting relatives at Springfield, Mo.

When boarding a Missouri-Pacific train here last night, Owen refused to comment on his plans at Cincinnati. It is believed, however, that he may seek immediate reinstatement with the big leagues. The offices of Baseball Commissioner A. B. (Happy) Chandler are in the Ohio city.

Eagles Training At Saranac Lake

Saranac Lake, N. Y., Aug. 7 (AP)—Fifty-seven members of the Philadelphia Eagles of the National Football league began pre-season training in earnest today, determined to prove that Head Coach Greasy Neale is a man of his word.

Neale, in opening the training camp yesterday, asserted his 1946 aggregation is "the best squad I have had to work with since I came with the Eagles in 1941."

The decision to delay the event was made by William H. (Bill) Cane, owner of Good Time park. He said that a heavy pre-dawn rain had turned the strip into mud.

Today's entire grand circuit card was wiped off the books with the Hambletonian and one other race being carried over, weather permitting. The nation's best trotters now will start at 3 p. m. (EDT) tomorrow in the first heat, with the remaining brushes at hour intervals.

CAMPBELL SOUP EMPLOYES WILL STRIKE MONDAY

Camden, N. J., Aug. 7 (AP)—In an effort to win demands for a closed shop, CIO workers at the huge Campbell soup company plant here will strike Monday, Harold J. Lane, secretary-treasurer of the Food, Tobacco, Agricultural and Allied Workers (CIO) announces.

The company will take no action to stop the strike, says J. M. Hoerie, Campbell's vice president in charge of production.

Lane, FTA strike strategy committee chairman, said the walkout date was set after a labor-management conference—called to discuss union demands for a new contract—collapsed yesterday.

The strike will idle approximately 8,000 workers in the Camden plant.

Growers Face Losses
Additionally, more than 3,000 tomato growers in Pennsylvania and New Jersey face loss of an estimated $4,900,000 crop of tomatoes which is already being harvested.

Lane reported the union will set a "later date" for a strike at Campbell's Chicago plant where 6,000 workers are employed.

The strike, Lane told reporters, "will be the responsibility of the company" because it declined to grant a closed shop.

Hoerie blamed the union. "The next move is up to the union and we will do nothing unless the government steps in," Hoerie said. "Our feeling is that we will maintain our position and that the granting of a closed shop would jeopardize our position still further. The strike will result in a tremendous loss to the growers and us."

The present union-management contract expires March 1, 1947. The union contends the company violated the agreement, thus automatically terminating it.

"We have made every effort to avoid this strike," Lane said. "The union had no choice, since to allow the company to continue its union-smashing program would have jeopardized the gains of workers over a period of years."

Union Charges
Lane said the union and management failed to agree on these issues: 1. The demand for a closed shop with preferential hiring in the company's plants in Camden, Chicago and Salisbury, Md.

2. The union's demand that Salisbury employees be included in the firm's Camden plants.

Hoerie denies that the company is trying to wreck the CIO union by employing AFL workers in the Salisbury plant.

"The company is not now engaged in an attempt to break the union and will not do so in the future," he insisted.

SILENCE
Silence is both a boon and a blessing. So few ever learn the art of handling it. In our high-strung age, the nerves of people have been worked to "get on a tension that even silence" so gets on their nerves," as the saying goes. But that is the very proof they need it most.

The silence of the night is what gives to sleep its greatest urge. Silence and rest are among the physician's favorite prescriptions. The greatest physician, however, is Nature. She gives silence to all who choose her. There are few harsh noises in Nature. Mostly they are softly melodious, like the waft of the wind, the wash of waters against the shore, or the echo of bird calls in the forest.

There is a sentence in the Bible that says: "Be still, and know that I am God." That, perhaps, was meant for a pause in the rush of things, to seek peace in the silence of prayer, or to be admonished that great thoughts and noble emotions come mostly in silence. Certainly, when we wish most to be in a creative mood we select a quiet place and request silence. Many of the world's great literary masterpieces have been written in the silence of the jail—notably "Pilgrim's Progress" and "Don Quixote."

There is a healing quality to silence, as anyone can testify who has spent long days and nights in a hospital, or who has been a shut-in for long. People who are helpless in bed, or who rarely taste of the joy of the out-of-doors, know the power and spiritual nourishment of silence. It stirs the mind and educates the heart.

In silence we see and learn. Away from the rush and whirl of business getting and mad competition, we can get nearest to the essence of ourselves, and repeat with Shakespeare:

"And this our life, exempt from public haunt,

Finds tongues in trees, books in the running brooks,
Sermons in stones and good in everything."

Silence alone can give to one such thoughts and appreciation of hidden truths as are spread about us, everywhere we go, and the most active and potent are in meditative silence. It was character silence that Emerson undoubtedly had in mind when he made the statement that, "What you are speaks so loudly that I cannot hear what you have to say."

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "One With the Universe."

Just Folks

VANITY
The young folks rush to hold my coat;

They stand until they see me seated.

By these attentions small, I note
They fancy Time has me defeated.

They call me "Sir" with deference

They offer help that isn't needed.

It's plain their mothers' good advice

About politeness they have heeded.

My old companions come and go,

No courtesies or favors paying.

They act as though they didn't know

How rapidly my hair is gray-ing.

Though youthful kindness I commend,

And thankless for it shall be never.

I'm vain, and longer would pretend

That I am still as young as ever.

DUFF DECLARES CAMPAIGN ISSUE IS RULE OF CIO

New Castle, Pa., Aug. 7 (AP)—Attorney General James H. Duff, Republican nominee for Governor, declared Monday night the supreme issue of this campaign is whether the voters want the CIO's Political Action Committee "to take over control of the state and federal governments by the use of a small segment of labor."

The candidate spoke before 1350 members of the Lawrence county Republican committee and of adjoining county organizations.

He said:

"That is the supreme issue. It's whether the control of the government is decided by the few or by the majority of voters. You can't escape it. And you can be sure the PAC won't be haphazard about giving up."

Name-calling and emotion are out of place in discussing the PAC, said Duff, because they have the same right to organize as any other group.

Claims PAC Pact

He asserted that "four Democratic candidates for state-wide office have signed papers in Harrisburg, naming a PAC officer as their fiscal agent for the campaign this year."

"If they are able to succeed with these methods, they are going to take over the government of Pennsylvania," the nominee added, "and they are going to prevent the election of a sufficient number of Congressmen who will do something about the 'breakdown' in government at Washington."

Duff charged a "breakdown" in Washington has been caused by the "interference of government—by the meddling of bureaucrats and executive order men in matters that they don't have sufficient knowledge and understanding to tamper with."

LANSFORD WILL MARK FOUNDING

Lansford, Pa., Aug. 7 (AP)—Lansford borough, nestled in a cradle of anthracite, will observe the 100th anniversary of its settlement from August 28 through Labor Day.

Highlights of the celebration will be a reception and subsequent public meeting for Governor Edward Martin, who will come here on August 29, and a homecoming parade in honor of Lansford G.I.'s on Labor Day. Thomas Kennedy, international secretary-treasurer of the UMWA, will speak at the conclusion of the parade. The Rev. Dr. Franklin Clark Frye, of New York, president of the United Lutheran Church in America, will speak August 31.

In the summer of 1791, Philip Ginder, a trapper, kicked up sod on the hill south of Lansford and discovered a black mineral. He took a sample to Colonel Jacob Weiss, commanding officer of Fort Allen, 20 miles away. Colonel Weiss took the sample down the Lehigh river to Philadelphia where analysis identified it as a coal unlike the softer coal that had been discovered previously in Virginia.

It took 30 years before Ginder's discovery could be exploited. Problems of transportation to the Philadelphia market, a hundred miles away, seemed insurmountable. People were slow to accept the new fuel and it is recorded that one early shipment of it was used to pave a Philadelphia street.

In 1820, the Lehigh Coal and Navigation company was organized. That firm made the Lehigh river navigable for large barges and overcame the transportation problem. It opened its first mines in Summit Hill, a village situated on the hill-top north of Lansford.

EPIDEMICS OF POLIO REPORTED IN SOME AREAS

(By The Associated Press)

Infantile paralysis reached epidemic proportions in scattered sections of the nation today as health authorities took further steps to combat spread of the disease.

Epidemics were reported at Minneapolis; in Pulaski county, (Little Rock) Arkansas, and in Jones, Forrest and Lowndes counties, Mississippi.

In Ohio, the state health director predicted an epidemic year "unless there is a sharp drop within the next 10 days."

Many states throughout the south, west and midwest reported the number of polio cases for the year already higher than last year's totals. New England and Middle Atlantic states appeared only slightly affected.

Fewer Cases In East
Precautions taken included cancellation of some boys and girls conventions in Louisiana and Mississippi and closing of some swimming pools in Nebraska state parks. Ohio's health director told parents to keep children away from crowds, allow them plenty of rest and prevent over-exercise.

Eastern reports of polio were few, comparatively.
New York city had 86 cases and nine deaths to date, against 117 and 13, respectively in the same period last year, Connecticut had only one case of polio in the state, the lowest for several years. New Jersey reported "about normal."

Not Alarming Here
Harrisburg, Aug. 7 (P)—The outlook for infantile paralysis in Pennsylvania is "definitely encouraging" to top ranking officials in the state Department of Health.

Dr. J. Moore Campbell, deputy secretary, said yesterday that the number of cases recorded to date in 1946 is 62 compared to 86 for the same period in 1945.

"If the second week in August is as good as the first week," said Dr. Campbell, "we'll anticipate no marked trouble this year."

For the week ending Aug. 3, he said that 43 counties had reported no cases, while 18 others were hit by one or two cases.

Schuykill county with six cases led the state, York, Lackawanna and Philadelphia counties had four each, while three cases were reported in Fayette, Erie and Allegheny.

Hope To Avert
Pittsburgh Strike

Pittsburgh, Aug. 7 (P)—A meeting at the office of Mayor David L. Lawrence today offered hope of averting a power strike which the Independent Association of Employees of Duquesne Light and Affiliated companies has called for August 31.

Representatives of the union and of the companies affected were summoned into session by the mayor who asked them to "come to an agreement so we will not have a repetition of the crisis of last February."

The union seeks a flat 20 per cent wage raise, in addition to the 18-cent hourly pay boost awarded by arbitrators last February, after a 19-hour strike had shut stores and office buildings, closed factories and darkened home and streets throughout the Pittsburgh district.

Someone To Believe In

By Helen R. Woodward

Chapter 19

"Like it?" Rocky asked.
"It's heavenly. I don't know when I ever swam before. I've always loved it. You should be very proud of this lovely place."

"Naturally I am. This afternoon when you've rested I'd like to show you around. The horses are pretty special, I think." They sat there, side by side, saying little until Greer's warm golden hair was dry and shining in the sunshine. Then surprisingly, Rocky reached out and placed his hand on her head, let his fingers run down through the soft silkiness of her hair. Greer was silent, powerless in the grip of a totally unexpected emotion. It was as if Rocky, too, was for the moment completely lifted outside himself, divorced entirely from his usual reticence. She looked up with a look that made her breath catch in her throat.

He said, a bit huskily, "Greer darling, I've always wanted to touch your lovely hair—"

Almost as if her loved her! Almost as if he wanted desperately to hold her in his arms—! She sprang to her feet, more shaken than she ever remembered being, and the spell was broken. So fleeting had it been that it was almost as if it had never happened, except for the remembrance of it that was like a quivering flame within her heart.

Someone shouted "Luncheon!" and they all ran into the house to dress. The meal was served on a shaded terrace and afterwards they all set out on a tour of the place under Rocky's guidance. It was late when they came back and Harriet was just driving up in her car.

"I hope you haven't been up to anything before your chaperone arrived," she whispered mischievously, and Greer wondered what she would have thought of that scene by the swimming pool!

They spent the perfect summer evening in the garden and on the terrace. Greer in the flowing blue gown she had worn often at the club, with a rose in her hair, sang for them to Rocky's accompaniment. She felt his dark eyes on her face, his smile met hers whenever she glanced his way—and a lifting excitement that was half-sweet, half-frightening, raced along her veins.

Rocky walked to the stairway with Harriet, Isobel and Greer. The Fredericks had already gone up. "It's wonderful here, Rocky," Harriet said sleepily following Isobel whose straight little figure was already disappearing into the dimness above stairs.

"I feel like I could sleep a million years in this gorgeous air!" Rocky laughed. "You'll be the first one down for breakfast. You'll be afraid you'll miss something!"

She made a face at him. "I hate men who understand me!" And disappeared in the wake of Isobel.

For a brief moment Rocky's brown hand covered Greer's as it rested on the balustrade. "I want more than anything to make this a happy, restful time for you, Greer—and to feel that we are—" his white teeth flashed in a smile—"that we are at least friends!" She knew then that this whole gathering had been arranged for her—that she might get out into the country air as he had suggested—and could it be

PEACE BURDEN RESTS ON PAIR OF "TOUGH" MEN

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
Associated Press Diplomatic Reporter
(Substituting For James Marlow)

Washington, Aug. 7 (AP)—Secretary of State James F. Byrnes is a mild-mannered man with the quality of tempered steel under the manners. In international conferences, he is a hard-hitter but he can take it, too.

The same may be said of Vyacheslav Molotov except that, far from being mild-mannered, he is a tough-talking old Bolshevik, who seems to enjoy a good fight—and usually a drink with his adversary afterward.

On these two men rests the burden of peace or no peace in the atomic age which was one year old yesterday, if you date it from Hiroshima. And there are signs that the terrific burden and the constant battling are beginning to tell.

What this may mean is not personal pique on the part of either but recognition by both that American-Russian relations are even worse than is generally recognized. Furthermore, no one seems to have any effective plan for stopping the downward trend of these relations.

Some American officials have gone so far as to evaluate of Russia as to say that Premier Stalin, Foreign Minister Molotov and all around them think of America as a potential enemy whom they might some day have to fight.

Paris Fireworks
These officials ask how specific issues—such as Trieste—can be settled by two parties in such fundamental distrust. For much of American policy seems now clearly based on high suspicion of the Kremlin.

This state of affairs is behind the fireworks of the Paris Peace Conference. The conference had an advance buildup based on controversy between the great powers and the small nations. It was said the small nations would resist big-power imposition of peace treaties. This has been a factor, but not the major one.

The major conflict developed two days ago when Molotov made a slashing attack on Byrnes, accusing him of inconsistency. At issue was a question of how the conference should vote.

Byrnes Holds Out
The Big-Power Foreign Ministers—Molotov, Byrnes, Bevin of Britain and Bidault of France—had recommended a two-thirds vote, but Byrnes had reserved his right to support some other plan if he chose. He did support a modified two-thirds vote as the peace conference got underway, and that made Molotov sore. So he attacked Byrnes.

Yesterday Byrnes struck back. He accused Molotov of inconsistency on various occasions. He detailed his earlier statement to show he never had bound himself to any voting procedure. He also said he had reiterated his reservations time and again because otherwise "I knew from experience" that Molotov would contend he was bound.

That implication of past disagreeable experiences by Byrnes highlights one of the difficulties of understanding between the two men. There are other sharp words by Byrnes obviously resisting Molotov digs at the conduct of the American delegation. Byrnes delivered his own final punch in a manner that perhaps only a diplomat would clearly understand—by making a distinction between the Russian government and the Russian people and implying we might get on well with the people if they were not for their government.

This incident in Paris, and the whole tone of the peace conference, may have ominous meanings for the future.

Double Order Makes Up For Long Delay

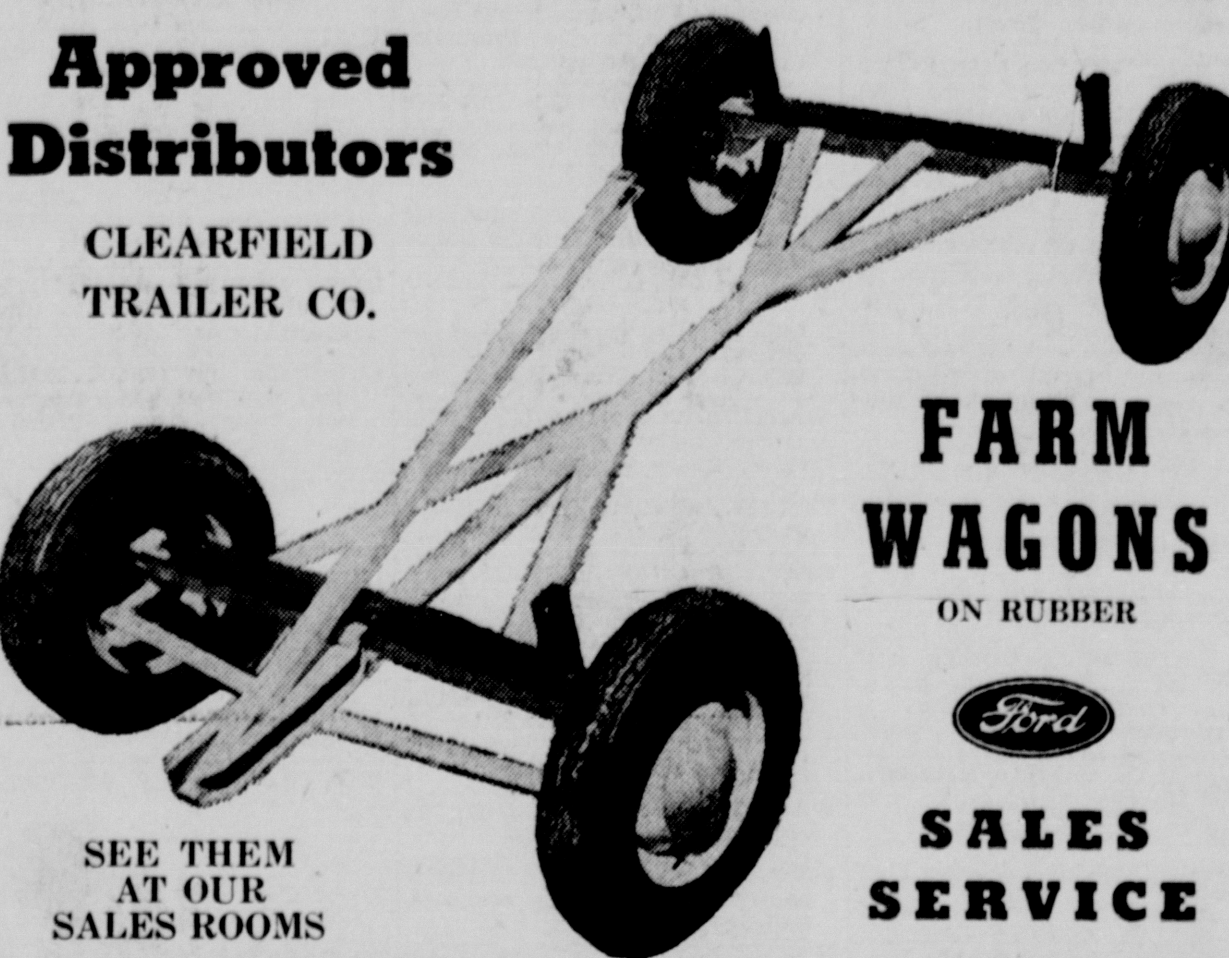

Pittsburgh, Aug. 7 (AP)—A seven-year-old girl wrote a letter to the fairies 16 years ago, asking them to bring "a little girl with blue eyes and straight hair." She sent the request to Dr. Ray Erickson of Sligo, Clarion county. Yesterday Dr. Erickson delivered to her—now Mrs. John Dan-diff of Sligo—the duplicate of her request: twin girls, both with blue eyes and straight hair. Said the mother: "I'm not going to write him any more letters."
